Make your own way to Hobart for an early afternoon check-in to the centrally located hotel. Enjoy the evening at leisure to experience some of the many highlights of Hobart.

We suggest you arrive into Hobart in the morning and visit the Salamanca Markets (only 500m walk away from your accommodation). This is only possible if your departure date falls on a Saturday. Check-in is available from 2:00pm. If you are intending to arrive earlier, please advise the hotel before your arrival date. Luggage storage is limited, so they will try their best to have a room ready for you as soon as possible (subject to availability).

Meet in your hotel reception at 8am where you will meet your tour leader and depart Hobart. Head south east to the Tasman Peninsula, home to the famed Port Arthur historic site, as well as a host of natural wonders. Port Arthur Historic Site is a special place of vivid history, cultural heritage and stories so compelling, you'll want to hear them again and again. It's a place of global significance – one of the 11 places that make up the UNESCO World Heritage-listed Australian Convict Sites. And it's one of Australia's favourite tourist destinations. Enjoy an easy walk around the grounds on a guided tour, followed by a 30 minute cruise out on the harbour. We will then have lunch in a café (at own expense) and then visit some of the stunning coastal sites. Once we have had our fill of the Tasman, it is just over an hour's ride to the accommodation for the night in the lovely Orford area.

Please note: The Port Arthur Historic Site is a fully vaccinated site, which means that all staff, contractors, volunteers and visitors must provide proof of vaccination and wear facemasks unless there is demonstrated medical exemption

Day 4 Orford - Wineglass Bay - Bicheno - St Helens (approx. 200km day)

From one famous Tasmanian national park to another! After breakfast, continue up the coast, to Freycinet National Park and its jewel, Wineglass bay. The 1-2hr return walk up to the look out is well worth the effort. There is a reason Wineglass bay is on just about every Tasmania postcard. After our visit to Freycinet National Park, we will enjoy a lunch break (own expense) at a local cafe and enjoy some leisure time exploring the town or coastline of Bicheno. From Bicheno, we drive up the scenic coastline (about an hour) to St Helen's, the resting point for the evening.

Day 5 St Helens - Bay of Fires - Sheffield (approx. 230km day)

The highlights keep coming today with a morning visit to the Bay of Fires. Enjoy a stroll around the aptly named Gardens close to Binalong Bay, checking out some of the most spectacular coastal scenery in Australia. Deep red rocks and aquamarine waters, this is a stunning place which we can leisurely explore for a few hours. After lunch (not included), it is a few hours drive through to Sheffield.

In the 1980s Sheffield was a typical small Tasmanian country town in the doldrums of rural decline. But then some astute townfolk came up with an idea that had been applied to the small town of Chemainus in Canada, with some surprising and wonderful results. The plan was to paint large murals on walls around town, depicting scenes from the district's pioneer days. Sheffield is now a veritable outdoor art gallery, with more than 80 large-scale murals, a number that grows each year through the town's annual mural-painting festival.

Overnight: Sheffield Motor Inn, Sheffield

Meals included: Breakfast

Day 6 Cradle Mountain National Park (approx. 100km day)

Today, we will pack ourselves some lunch, and then head off for a full day exploring one of the most impressive National Parks in Australia. About 1 hours drive from Sheffield, with its jagged peaks, lush greenery and abundant wildlife, Cradle Mountain has attracted tourists for all of Tasmania's history. The walk around Dove Lake is 6km long or takes 3-4 hours, undulating through alpine button-grass moorland, magnificent rainforest and alpine heathland. There are some short, steep sections with uneven steps to get the blood moving, so be sure to pack some sturdy walking shoes and clothes appropriate for walking, and a backpack to carry lunch and a water bottle. There are a number of short, easy walks in the area too, should you prefer a more casual walking day.

After exploring as much of the park as we can, there will be the opportunity to visit Devils@Cradle (entrance fee not included) - A world class wildlife conservation facility, where you can see Tasmanian Devils and the closely related Spotted-tail and Eastern Quolls. These critters are almost impossible to spot in the wild so it is a great opportunity to see them up close. Return to Sheffield in the evening.

For those not interested in seeing the Tassie Devils up close, the alternative is to grab yourself a wine and sit by the fire at the iconic Cradle Mountain Lodge or take a stroll through the Enchanted Forest.

Please note, the itinerary may vary considerably depending on driving and weather conditions around Cradle Mountain, especially in winter.

Overnight: Sheffield Motor Inn, Sheffield

Meals included: Breakfast;Lunch

Day 7 Tamar Valley Food & Wine Tour (approx. 180km day)

Roll into Launceston in the afternoon and check in for our final night in Tasmania.

CLIMATE & AVERAGE TEMPERATURES

Hobart

The climate of Hobart, the capital of Tasmania, is oceanic, with mild, rainy winters and cool, quite rainy summers. At these latitudes (the island is located between 40 and 43 degrees south latitude), the western currents prevail throughout the year, with a series of disturbances that bring rainfall especially on the west side of the island. The wind blows frequently as well.

Hobart is located in the southeast, and receives 570 mm of rain per year, which is not much, but the rains are well distributed over the seasons (although summer is the least rainy season), and often occur in the form of frequent drizzle and brief showers. Here is the average precipitation.

The average temperature in Hobart ranges from 8.5 °C in July to 17.5 °C in January and February. So, summer is cool, but winter is mild, although the wind can exacerbate the sensation of cold. Sometimes, especially in June and July, a cold air mass can reach the island, and in the hills and mountains of the interior, snow and frost can occur. In Hobart, in the coldest nights, the temperature can drop to around freezing (0 °C) or slightly below.

Tasmania is not completely sheltered from the hot wind that can blow in summer from the Australian deserts, although this wind arrives here more rarely and with less evident effects. However, the temperature can sometimes approach or reach 38/40 °C, although heat waves do not last long, and at night, the temperature becomes almost always acceptable again.
